

Daughters Day 2014

Nominate a Daughter of the Year

Daughters Day celebrates the lives, contributions, and achievements of all daughters. The vision is a world and community where every daughter has full opportunity to achieve all she can without discrimination or abuse.

Daughters Day began in 2012. The achievements of four women were recognized with the first Daughters of the Year awards. In 2013 the event honoured 10 women. Information about these women is available at www.daughters-day.com. The nomination form can also be downloaded at the website.

Now it's time for Albertans to nominate women for the 2014 awards. Think of women at any place in their lives who impress you with how they are making life better in our communities, how they exemplify qualities or actions that inspire others, or demonstrate exceptional achievement, perhaps in the face of significant challenges. Complete and submit a nomination by June 30. Presentations will take place at a September 6 event, where all nominees are invited to be introduced and the award recipients will be recognized.

Nominations may be made for any one of the categories:

- Arts, Culture & Entertainment;
- Business;
- Community Service & Volunteerism;
- Education;
- Health & Medicine;
- Human Rights;
- Public Service & Politics;
- Science & Technology; and
- Sports & Recreation.
