Spectators No More!

On behalf of Canadians for a Civil Society, the Daughters Day Committee 2018 is pleased to announce this year's theme, Spectators No More, which challenges all of us not to remain mere spectators but to firmly engage ourselves in building a civil society that embraces gender equality and dignity in our lives.

Mark your calendars for this year's celebration:

Date: Saturday, September 8th, 2018
Time: 1:00 pm to 3:00 pm
Location: Edmonton City Hall

The event will feature the Mayor's proclamation of Daughters Day, keynote speaker, artistic performances, information fair, and awards presentations to six very deserving Daughters of the Year.

This event is a free community event for everyone.

We are also inviting Albertans to nominate women in their lives and communities who are enriching the lives of others through their commitment to action and work and we will celebrate them at the Daughters Day celebration on September 8, 2018 at City Hall. Nomination forms are available at www.daughters-day.com

Stay tuned for announcements on the keynote, performers, and opportunities for the information fair. Like us on Facebook/DaughtersDay, follow us on Twitter @DaughtersDay. For more information contact Debbie Houle at 780 974 8853.
